

Mapping the Frontier of Communication, Media and Technology

As High School seniors you are the pioneers of an expanding frontier of communication, media, and technology. You are invited to explore your thoughts and images of the future of communication and media.

Articulate your vision and spell out in great detail the world you will enter when you graduate from URI's Harrington School of Communication and Media. If communication and media help the world connect, change, and progress at ever-faster rates, what will this world look like in 25 or in 50 years? Most importantly, how do you envision yourself taking part in this ongoing transition? What is the shape of the future of media? How will people take part in it?

AWARDS

FIRST PLACE

$1500 tuition credit
to URI's Harrington School
of Communication and Media

SECOND PLACE

$500 tuition credit
to URI's Harrington School
of Communication and Media

How to Enter:

- Step 1. Visit this website for more information:
harrington.uri.edu/scholarships
- Step 2. Send your work (or a link to your work if it is a large size file - over 20MB) to:
harringtonpioneers@gmail.com

Guidelines for Contest Entry, Submissions, and Evaluation:

Submit a brief descriptive essay (1000 words maximum) in combination with an original work of media or art that best communicates your vision. Many things may count as your original media or artwork, including, but not limited to:

- A brief video (less than 3 minutes)
- A multimedia presentation or object
- An original piece of 2 or 3 dimensional art

Submission Deadline:

December 20, 2016

Winners will be notified by April 20, 2017